OUR ORGANIZATION

PLF was founded in 1987 and is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization. PLF endorses and embraces the multiple use mission of the BLM.

PLF is an independent organization and is not part of the BLM. Membership is open to current, former and retired BLM employees and all who have an interest in how public lands are used and managed.

OUR MISSION

The Public Lands Foundation (PLF) is a national membership organization whose mission is to advocate and work to keep public lands in public hands. The public lands that we focus on are those that are managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). The BLM is the largest land owner in the U.S., managing some 245 million acres of federal public land.

WHAT PLF DOES

- Communicates our positions and recommendations on public lands issues through meetings, comment letters, testimony to Congress and position statements.
- Advocates for agency budgets commensurate with management needs.
- Collaborates with partner organizations on public land policy matters and issues.
- Awards scholarships to college students.
- Holds a biennial Student Congress on Public Policy for Land Management.
- Recognizes outstanding BLM employees, organizations and PLF member achievements through awards.
- Maintains the PLF archives, a collection of BLM and personally donated memorabilia.
- Honors BLM employees who have passed away on our Memorial Wall.
- Conducts and participates periodically in special events.
